

Web Developer

This role will be primarily responsible for working on billable projects and solving problems for our clients. This role will also be involved in supporting internal product and initiatives from time to time.

Are you interested in a young and agile environment using modern and innovative technologies and working in self-organizing SCRUM teams as well as being part of the whole development lifecycle and you do whatever it takes to push a product to its best?

You have excellent communication skills, including the ability to explain design concepts clearly?

You are stress resistant, multi- tasking talent with proactive attitude and excellent time management and passion, integrity and energy?

Your role will consist of front end development and ideal candidate should have previous FX experience and possess the following demonstrable skills:

Required

- HTML/CSS (plus Bootstrap)
- JavaScript (jQuery)
- PHP (ideally Zend Framework)
- Basic Linux knowledge
- Advanced English language (speaking and reading)
- Experience working with git

What we offer

We offer a diversified range of activities in an international environment as well as a young and dynamic team with ambitious, yet realistic objectives for the future, promoted by an open team and communication culture.

Please send your applications to support@felicons.com with subject "Web Developer"