

Software Developer – C#

Developing is this all you can think of?

If someone asks you about which languages you speak you answer: “.NET, C#, SQL, etc.”?

You are interested in a young and agile environment using modern and innovative technologies and working in self-organizing SCRUM teams?

You are willing to be part of the whole development lifecycle and you do whatever it takes to push a product to its best? You have excellent communication skills, including the ability to explain design concepts clearly? You are stress resistant, multi- tasking talent with proactive attitude and excellent time management and passion, integrity and energy?

Your role will consist of desktop and web application development and server-side back office core development using the Microsoft technology stack and including SQL Server database development.

The ideal candidate should have previous FX experience and possess the following demonstrable skills:

Required

- .Net
- C#
- Very good knowledge of MS SQL Server, stored procedures, views, triggers etc
- Experience of full development lifecycle
- Web Services, preferably WCF
- OO background

What we offer

We offer a diversified range of activities in an international environment as well as a young and dynamic team with ambitious, yet realistic objectives for the future, promoted by an open team and communication culture.

Please send your applications to support@felicons.com with subject “Software Developer C# application”